

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1922.

PRESIDENT HARDING REVIEWS PARADE. With the chief executive are Postmaster General Work and Eliot Wadsworth, assistant secretary of the Treasury. They reviewed the Safety week parade from steps of the executive offices.
Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

A CHARACTERISTIC POSE. Senator Robert M. La Follette making opening address before the meeting of progressive senators and representatives in Senate office building.
Copyright by Harris & Ewing.

NEW SENATORS IN WASHINGTON. They were elected at the November balloting. Left to right: S. W. Brookhart of Iowa, B. K. Wheeler of Montana, Dr. Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota and Lynn J. Frazier of North Dakota.
Copyright by Harris & Ewing.

COMMANDER OF CIVIL WAR VETERANS. Gen. James W. Willett of Tama, Iowa, who was elected head of the G. A. R. at its last encampment, called on President Harding at the White House yesterday.
Copyright by Harris & Ewing.

PASSING THE WHITE HOUSE. The Safety week parade passing in review before President Harding and other government officials at the White House offices. Navy float in the foreground.
National Photo.

FORMER EMPEROR MARRIES. Hsuan Tung, deposed Chinese ruler, who married the Princess Kuo-Chin Si yesterday. The groom is only seventeen years old, and the bride sixteen. Hsuan Tung had never seen the princess until the wedding ceremony.
Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

WOMEN'S BUREAU FLOAT. This was one of the most attractive in the parade. Marchers from the Interior Department, of which the women's bureau is a branch, won second prize, with the Navy Department third.
National Photo.

NO GOLF FOR ITALY'S PREMIER. Benito Mussolini, chief of fascisti, keeps fit by fencing, and he is considered an expert swordsman. His fencing master stands at right.
Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

FREE LODGING FOR SPEEDERS. Los Angeles treats automobile speeders pretty roughly, the judges usually sending them to jail. This photo shows a whole batch of them in their jail bunks.

THE BEST DRILLED GROUP. This Treasury Department delegation in the Safety week parade won the silver cup for being the best drilled group. The young women attracted considerable attention with their costumes and the military precision of their marching.
National Photo.

WON GENERAL MERIT PRIZE. Post Office Department division in the Safety week parade, which won first prize for general merit. The girls, dressed in mail sacks, were escorts to men bearing the flags of the forty-eight states and a large float.
National Photo.